

Calling For Volunteers

The 26th Deep RiverRock Belfast City Marathon takes place on Bank Holiday Monday 7th May 2007.

As with previous years, volunteers are required to assist with a range of tasks including the supervision of refreshment stations around the marathon route and stewarding duties.

Individuals: Would you have any special skills or training, or are you simply interested in getting involved in any particular aspect of Marathon day?

Groups: Would your Association / Group be able to provide small groups (6-10 per group) of Volunteers to help with water/ refreshment stations or general stewarding ?

Youth Leaders or responsible adults are urgently required; who can be appointed as task leaders at each refreshment station. If you feel that this role may be suitable for you, please contact us.

What you get!

We will provide you full training in advance. On the day you will get a fresh packed lunch, a Deep RiverRock Belfast Marathon race officials water proof jacket, t-shirt and an official volunteer medal which you can keep to show your involvement in the event. You'll also get a copy of the Event Programme where your specific efforts will be acknowledged.

The atmosphere on Marathon day is buzzing and by volunteering you will have the chance to join in!
